

SCUP 2011 Pacific Regional Conference

Your guide for where to meet & where to eat.

March 21-23
Seattle University
Seattle, Washington

Society for College and University Planning
INTEGRATED PLANNING FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Welcome to Seattle!

Space Needle. Pike Place Market. Seattle Art Museum.

You already know which landmarks are on the Seattle tourist maps. Instead of recommending the usual suspects, we've taken this opportunity to create a guide specific to the neighborhood surrounding Seattle University:

Capitol Hill

Capitol Hill is a densely populated neighborhood and home to our city's counterculture, LGBT life, and vibrant nightlife. It's a walkable neighborhood, so we encourage you to get out there and explore.

Looking for a unique shopping experience?

Boutiques, restaurants and bars thrive on Broadway Avenue, but the new heart of Capitol Hill is the Pike-Pine corridor. These two streets of energetic retail are only a couple blocks north of the Seattle University campus.

Want good coffee? Capitol Hill is home to some of our city's best locally owned coffeehouses. A few of our favorites are marked on the map (although there are many to choose from), along with a diverse selection of restaurants, lively bars to enjoy a drink, and a handful of other landmarks you can only find on Capitol Hill.

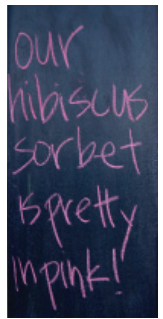

Feeling adventurous? A little further north on the map, you'll find Volunteer Park and Lake View Cemetery. If the weather is cooperating, take a stroll through the park, then walk next door to the cemetery and pay your respects to Bruce Lee and his son, Brandon Lee.

We hope you enjoy your stay during the conference.

Sincerely,

Your 2011 SCUP Regional Conference Host Committee

P.S. You will receive a printed version of this tour guide when you check-in at the conference.
